

Canadian Disaster and Humanitarian Response Training Program

May 2014

Interested in working in the humanitarian sector?

This multidisciplinary learning experience offers a unique opportunity to gain the essential competencies needed to work in the field.

LOCATION

McGill University
Montreal, Qc, Canada

DATES

Introductory course

Especially aimed at people with no prior experience who wish to undertake a career in the humanitarian sector

Dates: May 5-9

Advanced course

For humanitarian practitioners who wish to gain more insight in the current practices and challenges of field work and for participants of the introductory course

Dates: May 12-14

Field-based Simulation Exercise

For those who have taken the intro course or who have minimal training or experience in humanitarian response

Dates: May 15-18

Full course

Includes Intro Course, NGO Training and 3-Day simulation exercise

Dates: May 5-18

For questions & applications:

melanie.coutu3@mcgill.ca

Enhance your skills in:

- Humanitarian leadership
- Humanitarian system
- Project management & budgeting
- Effective communication
- Security
- Media interaction
- Humanitarian technology
- Civil-military cooperation
- International humanitarian law
- Data collection & field epidemiology
- Rapid health assessments
- Public health
- Outbreaks & communicable diseases
- Field hospital set-up
- Water and sanitation

+ Up to 72 CME credits available for MDs

© Amos Hercz

For details please visit:

humanitarianstudiesinitiative.wordpress.com

With the special collaboration of:

McGill

Department of Family Medicine
Département de médecine de famille